West Feeds Dealer Standards

1. West Feeds requires dealers to purchase a minimum of 11 tons of various West Feeds products in a thirty-day period. This may consist of any combination of our various product lines. Products must be ordered in lots of five (5), excluding specialty items.
2. All West Feeds dealers must operate from a legitimate store with storefront, store name, and a West Feeds sign prominently displayed on the front of the building at all times.
3. Drivers will not be responsible for rotating feed stored within the confines of your store. When you take delivery of feed, it becomes yours. It is your responsibility to move older feed out to make room for new shipments.
4. When orders are placed, they are not processed until the next business day. For example, orders placed on Fridays are sent in for processing on Mondays. Depending on the time of year, orders may require two-day manufacturing of products, and this does not include the day the order is placed. Ingredient availability, especially during peak feed season, can delay manufacturing.
